

Edmodo Getting Started Information for Parents

How to create a parent account

To create an account, parents should visit Edmodo.com and select the “I’m a Parent Button” on the homepage, just below the student and teacher sign up buttons. Complete the registration form, which includes your unique parent code, your relationship with the child and a valid email address.

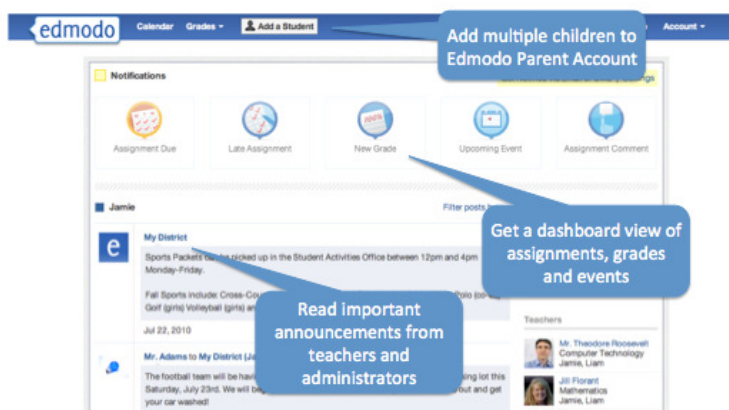

Parent account overview

Within the parent account homepage, parents can:

- Get a dashboard view of their child’s school activities including:
 - Assignments Due- A list of upcoming assignments that have not been turned in.
 - Late Assignments- A list of assignments that are past due.
 - New grades- Recent grades that their child has received.
 - Upcoming Events- A list of upcoming calendar notices which may include assignments, school events, tests, etc.
 - Assignment Comments- Recent teacher feedback provided on their assignments.
- View announcements and messages from teachers and administrators.
- See a list of their child’s teachers.

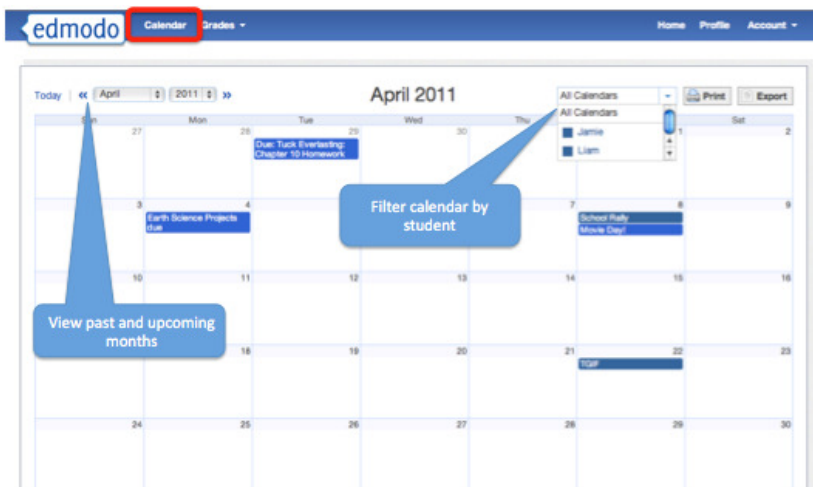

If a parent has multiple students on Edmodo, they can add additional students to their Edmodo account by selecting the “Add a Student” button on the top navigation bar. Utilizing the “Filter post by” option, the parent can also filter messages by individual child.

Edmodo Getting Started Information for Parents

Calendar

Within the calendar (located on the top navigation menu), a parent can see all of their student's events, due dates, and assignments. They can filter to see a single child's calendar by selecting the child's name from the drop down menu located at the top right corner of the calendar. To scroll through other months, select the forward and backward arrows in the upper left corner of the calendar.

Grades

From the grades page, a parent can see all assignments given to their student. They can filter between their student's groups from the left navigation panel.

Select any assignment title to view the grade for their assignment and any comments provided by the teacher.

Each assignment will either have a grade, a dash (for a missing assignment), N/A (for an assignment given to some students in the class but not others for differentiation), or waiting... (for a turned-in assignment that the teacher still needs to grade). At the bottom of the grades page, you will find the total points for the student and the total points possible for the class.

Assignment	Grade
Tuck Everlasting: Chapter 10 Homework	97/100
Tuck Everlasting: In-Class Test.	88/100
Tuck Everlasting: In-Class Test.	Not Turned In
Tuck Everlasting Chapter 2	80/100
Total	265 / 300

Edmodo Getting Started Information for Parents

Settings

From the settings page, parents can sign up for email or text notifications that will alert them to any assignments, direct messages or alerts from teachers. Parents can also change their email address or password if needed.

To access the account settings page, select the down arrow located next to the “Account” option in the top navigation. In the drop down menu, select the “Settings” option